

Improving accessibility for and inclusion of people of all abilities

Join DH for this free event in partnership with the University of Washington's CCER & ADII teams to learn more about accessibility and how to make COVID-19 communications more accessible and inclusive.

Thursday, June 3, 2021 | 11am - 12pm PT

CLICK TO REGISTER

23.5% of Washington State's population includes individuals with disabilities.

As a project of the University of Washington's Center for Continuing Education in Rehabilitation (CCER), the office of Accessible Design and Innovative Inclusion (ADII) helps create inclusive, user-friendly and accessible experiences for all.

Our speakers:

W | Eva Larrauri de Leon, M.A., CRC, ADAC
Assistant Director of Programs, CCER; Director, ADII

W | Sara Cravens
Program Coordinator

W | Tammi Olson
Accessibility Specialist

W | John McClure, M.A.
Moderator & Training Specialist

DH | DH Outreach Team

You will learn:

- Basics of accessibility, plus disability language & etiquette
- Features of an accessible meeting
- Services and support available to you as a DH/DOH contracted partner
- How to use DH's Accessibility Toolkit
- Where to access more free training courses offered by UW-CCER and ADII

About the webinar:

- This Zoom webinar is available to the public!
- Registration to participate (or view later) is required.
- Live transcription and ASL will be available.
- Questions may be submitted to the presenters after the event.

CLICK TO REGISTER